LITTLE AMERICA LEGACY

When Carol and Earl Holding, a young couple running an orchard business out of northern Utah, were invited by S.M. Covey, the founder of the original Little America, to take on management of the property, they jumped on board and moved their lives up to the busy travel center and hotel off the I-80 in western Wyoming. As they stepped into any and all roles in the business, Carol particularly enjoyed waiting on tables in the bustling Coffee Shop. She loved chatting with the customers and exchanging stories with the many truck drivers just passing through. The original Coffee Shop in Wyoming.
